To Whom It May Concern:

Satellite phones have proven their worth many times over in our business. Far Flung has operated tours in the remote setting of Big Bend for over 36 years. Having this form of communication allows our staff to quickly relay emergency situations to our office for proper handling. While we also use handheld radios, they are not reliable in the wide service area we cover.

Restricting or reducing satellite coverage in this remote part of the United States – where other forms of communication are unreliable or non-existent – would be a step back in the progress we have made in executing our emergency management contingencies.

I would be delighted to discuss this issue with any concerned parties at 432-371-2633.

Sincerely,
